9th edition of Bella Skyway Festival: Liquid universe

All entities move and nothing remains still.

HERACLITUS

The aliveness of a city depends on the bond between its water and its flow of dreams.

GASTON BACHELARD

The ninth edition of Bella Skyway Festival will feature an innovative combination of water and light, reminiscent of key scientific findings. Artists will show different paths of light establishing a dialog with water. Light, the source of all life – at the most basic level in the process of photosynthesis, but also in religious myths – is perceived in relation to the surfaces on which it falls. Present in the landscape as well as works of art, it is the result of the game played between color and shadow. Water is not only the basis of life, the origin of the human species, but also the fundamental element of existence. In this sense, Bella Skyway Festival 2017 is an echo of ecological principles of harmony and balance, as it shows many relationships of people with water, in the perspective of the past and the future.

This year the festival will be based on five thematic axes:

- Experience vs. Technology — the festival presents the great breadth of the spectrum of experiencing water spectacles designed using today's technology;
- Pleasure vs. Danger – the time spent by the water is an important part of many pleasant childhood memories. Often, however, water is also a source of fatal destruction, such as the floods following Hurricane Katrina. The installations are to show all the faces of water, causing both happiness and fear;
- Symbol vs. Physics — thanks to its simplest molecular structure, water remains at the center of religious symbolism and cognitive tensions: chaos and order, creation and destruction, life and death. When creating their works, artists not only rely on the latest scientific findings on the properties of water, but also consider its broad cultural background;
- Globally Vital Commodity vs. Natural Element of the Cosmos — works of art are to inspire addressing important civilizational issues i.a. the extent to which water is treated as a common commodity, or purely as an economic good and a fundamental element of nature;
- Tradition vs. Innovation – The Vistula, the mythical cradle of Poland, is the country's longest and largest river. As a symbol of communication between cities, it was a means of transportation, even though its name derives from the expression "slow flow". The festival is to make people appreciate the presence of the Vistula as a silent witness of the society's association not only with the past, but especially with the future.

DIRECTOR OF BELLA SKYWAY FESTIVAL

MÁRIO JORGE DA CÂMARA DE MELO CAEIRO
AUTHOR OF BELLA SKYWAY FESTIVAL'S CONCEPT

Festival certified with the "EFFE Label 2017–2018", winner in the "Best promotion of cultural events" category and the winner of the title of best film in the "promotion of cultural events" category of 11th FilmAT Festival 2016, the best cultural event of summer 2015 in the "Brief for Poland" competition, winner of the Certificate and the Internet Users' Certificate in the Polish Tourism Organisation competition for the Best Tourist Product of Poland in 2014.

International conference of light festivals in Toruń

This year in Toruń, during the 9th Bella Skyway Festival, an international meeting will be held of light festival organizers from across Europe, Asia and North America, including the world's largest light festival in Lyon. The ILO (International Light Festival Organisation) brings together festival makers who have been collaborating for three years. Officially, the ILO has been operating since November 2016, and Bella Skyway Festival is one of its founders! The conference will be held on 26–28 August.

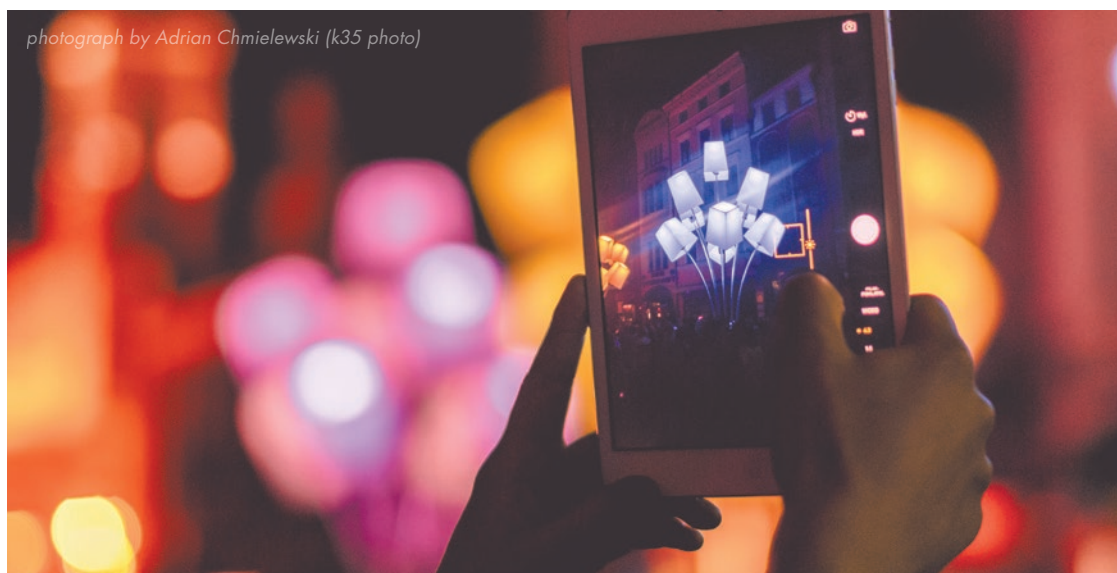

20th International Long-Term Care Conference

In addition, after Bella Skyway Festival, the International Long-Term Care Conference will take place. The ILCC comprises meetings of professionals working for the chronically ill, the disabled and the elderly. It is undoubtedly the largest conference in Europe devoted to this subject, recognized by scientific authorities and practitioners. The high level of the conference (in substantive terms) is guaranteed by constant cooperation with leaders and creators of long-term care services in Poland and abroad, among others with the EDE (European Association for Directors and Providers of Long-Term Care Services for the Elderly). It is this cooperation that has resulted in the unique event: the organization in Toruń, on 27–29 September 2017, of the joint celebration of the 20th International Long-Term Care Conference and the 15th Congress of the EDE. As part of the open events, a series of lectures will be prepared for those who live in Toruń and around as well as for all those who are interested in the issues of caring for a dependent person. Come join us! More information is available at ltc-congress.eu/en and razemzmieniamyswiat.pl.

Enlighten yourself at UMK!

Nicolaus Copernicus University (UMK) in Toruń, which once again is the main scientific partner of Bella Skyway Festival, has prepared a whole lot of light attractions for festival guests. When visiting the UMK stand at Błonie Nadwiślańskie (close to the "Water Concept Factory" installation), you will be able to get a set of lightbulb leaflets with tidbits from the world of science, and find out, among other things, what connects UMK physicists to the construction of the most accurate optical atomic clock in the world, and what research is being conducted at the UMK Polar Station in Spitsbergen, which is the northernmost Polish research unit. On festival grounds you will also meet 'light volunteers' from UMK. You will recognize them by their reflective outfits and bright smiles.

"Capture the Brilliance of Bella Skyway" competition

Light beautifies, light allows you to notice the details, light distinguishes. At Bella Skyway Festival, Toruń's Old Town can be viewed in completely different light – literally and figuratively. Colorful illuminations and Gothic architecture are a combination that you do not see every day. Undoubtedly, such moments should be captured. Therefore, we are organizing a photography competition called "Capture the Brilliance of Bella Skyway". Five photos will be chosen, and their authors will receive awards in the form of festival gadgets. In addition, the author of the best picture will receive a special prize – an exceptional dinner at Louisiana restaurant! Photographs should be sent to konkurs@bellaskyway.pl by 3 September 2017. More information: www.bellaskyway.pl/konkursy (in Polish).

🎫 tickets on GROUPON: 7.99 PLN (free for children under 12)

The creators of the world's first 360° water show present the "Water Concept Factory" – an animated tale showing the clumsy yet laborious life of colorful creatures working in an unusual factory, whose mission is to create the perfect soap bubble and release it to the world. This extraordinary multimedia spectacle combines light, water, animation and – for the first time in Poland – light drones. It involves a huge structure with a span of 40 meters and a height of 16 meters, over 300 square meters of projection screens, dancing fountains, millions of light colors combined with an innovative solution of flying light balls. "Water Concept Factory" is the only installation with paid admission at the 9th Bella Skyway Festival. Tickets can be purchased on Groupon and at the ticket offices on site.

✚ Valley of Dreams

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

The Phoenix would burn and be reborn in the fire. Metal animals made by participants in the classes held as part of the Workshop for the Development of Creativity in Disabled Persons will be spatial sculptures, illuminated by fire. The studio has been operating in Toruń for almost 40 years. It offers creative activities (primarily plastic, as well as theatrical and musical) to adults with intellectual and physical disabilities. Thanks to creative classes, the teachers try to bring out the full personality of their pupils.

03 Orzeł The Eagle

★ Anna Galas, Poland

📍 Park beyond the Valley of Dreams

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Anna Galas draws attention to the destructive power of natural phenomena that normally are harmless and delight us with their beauty. A metaphor for these phenomena is the eagle made of water droplets which, by means of light, shows the specificity of the tsunami phenomenon. One drop cannot do harm, but a countless number of them can. The interior of the bird concentrates the intensity of the light, while its peripheries and separated elements lose their force and become harmless.

04 Spectral Spectral

★ KASJO (Katarzyna Malejka, Joachim Sługocki), Poland

📍 Park on Rapacki Square

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Looking for landscapes of the future, it is not always necessary to look at the appropriating technologies and simulations. The installation examines the urban space, adding a painted narrative to the elements that fill it. The intervention was woven out of hundreds of colorful lines that re-organize the exhibition venue. After dark, the installation, which pulsates with reflected UV light, digitizes the space. It is a visual light event, a proposal for a new architecture that, despite its physical proximity to the surroundings, remains intangible. An interesting project of artists who started by presenting their idea at the 2011 Toruń festival, thanks to which they were invited to participate in other European light festivals, and this year also to the festival in Singapore. Persons suffering from epilepsy are hereby cautioned against the flashing lights and informed that they approach the installation at their own risk.

★ The Wow! Collective (Maciej Kwietnicki, Parasite Arek), Poland

✚ Park on Rapacki Square

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

The “H₂SO₂” installation presenting radioactive, glowing puddles is a visual metaphor trying to draw attention to the problem of harmful processes occurring in nature, for which man is largely responsible. The project is based on a visual message, whose shallowness – both literally and figuratively – refers to the myopia of society. We want to signal that what we are gaining now, thanks to the pace of civilizational development, in the long run can easily lead to ecological degradation with brutal consequences. Instead of allowing more toxic pools to be created, let’s set a good example ourselves!

06 Cosmic Flow Cosmic Flow

★ Limelight, Hungary

✚ Collegium Maximum UMK

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Water is the source of life. It begins it all, and flows until death. The goal of the Hungarian Group named Limelight is to create a work that would inspire the viewer. There will be no classic tales or narratives here. What there will be, however, are the key elements that will interact with the architectural features of the façade and with music: cosmos, water, life and humanity. “Cosmic Flow” is the return of the Hungarian Limelight group, which in 2011 created one of Toruń’s first mappings on the Collegium Maximum UMK building. This year, the Hungarians will work on this building for the third time.

📍 Rapacki Square

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Arché is the primordial principle guiding the universe. According to Thales, arché is water – the source of all existing things that is constantly changing, in terms of both state of aggregation and shape. It is an element that gives and takes away, creates and destroys. The installation shows the variability of the form of water, its transitory nature and delicacy. Dry ice, water and liquid form foam that can be taken into one's hand, crushed or blown off. Through interaction with the viewer, the foam releases a delicate mist that descends and flows around the installation like water.

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

An interactive installation: dozens of suspended galleries of “characters” animated with the light of glow tubes. The latest version of the work made at the State Gallery of Art in Sopot in 1995, in which the structure of the installation freely integrated into the gallery’s space is animated and controlled by the presence and activity of spectators. The concept of “Iluminacja”, referred to in the title, describes not only the interactive installation prepared by the artist in the gallery, but also indicates the specific state of the mind that experiences sudden “enlightenment”...

On Szeroka, the busiest of the streets and the city's meeting place, Toruń will host Marianolight, the true masters of the night, already for the second time. The artists invite visitors to go through a giant portal and take a walk under the gentle and harmonious vault made of thousands of lights. Luminarie is a one-hundred-years old tradition of street lighting, to which Marianolight takes an innovative approach. Lights – colorful and elegant, simple but also full of glamor, coming from the warm southern Europe – are the very heart of urban lighting whose aim is to celebrate the community, and they represent the noble and ancient art that the Mariano family has been perfecting for generations. The Marianolight Group has performed all across the world, from San Remo to Valencia, from Seoul to Florence and Venice, Monte Carlo, Turin, Kobe and Houston.

- 📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

The light installation presents unpredictable and chaotically dispersed molecules constituting the basis for complex patterns. With each passing moment the initial chaos takes on more and more orderly forms. Ultimately, a portal emerges, creating a hypnotic expedition into a symbiotic circle of light and music. The final experience does not clarify whether we observe single elements that are atoms and look into the core of a transforming star, or we see individual stars in extended constellations. The installation will be accompanied by a music piece by Da Vosk Docta – Super9.

14 They were here They were here

- ★ Alexander Reichstein, Finland
- 📍 Ruins of the Teutonic Order Castle
- 📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

"They were here" installation brings the former inhabitants of the historic city back to life. According to the artist, people never really disappear without a trace – they stay as long as their image remains in our memory. The installation depicts characters from different eras in constant motion. They are located in one of the oldest parts of the city, where contemporary people look for traces of history. The characters made of wire and covered with fluorescent paint, become living ghosts.

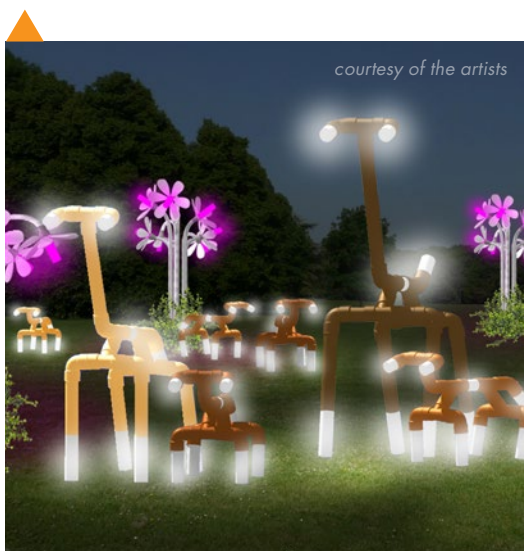

15 oZoo

★ Chezbulb, France

📍 Oficerska Szkoła Marynarki Wojennej Square

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Once upon a time, in the 21st century, over a period of only 80 years a seventh continent appeared on the surface of our planet, that drifted in the deep waters of the North Pacific. From dawn of time the formation of continental plates on our blue planet has been going on naturally, but this time it is driven by humanity! A hundred years later, in the 22nd century, man disappears from the surface of the Earth. He is replaced by a new, mysterious form of life that evolves feeding only on the plastic we left on the Earth. Bizarre sheep, the survivors of the global warming, have been living peacefully in Europe since the second half of the 23rd century. Chezbulb's "oZoo" is an installation which, despite its playful and surrealist character, symbolizes the future of our planet and presents a place where realism mixes with illusion.

★ Magdalena Radziszewska, Poland

📍 Pod Krzywą Wieżą Street

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

Delicate and ephemeral flowers will grow on the city walls at Pod Krzywą Wieżą Street. For centuries, supernatural and magical properties have been attributed to flowers. Their delicacy and mysteriousness seemed something ephemeral, something out of this world. Frequently utilized in fairy tales and legends, they have not lost their aura despite the passing of time. The purpose of the installation presenting numerous giant orchids covered with delicate light is to take the viewer to the world of dreams and fantasies to allow him to see with his own eyes the visions of his childhood imagination.

★ Top-Art, Poland

✚ Wilam Horzyca Theatre

📅 22–27 Aug 2017, 20:30–24:00

In the “Legend of the North” campaign, which has been running since April, the Special brand adopts a comic book form to present nearly 30 stories and legends from the northern regions of Poland – Pomerania, Kujawy, Warmia and Mazury. One of them has been specially developed and produced using the mapping technique. This is a story about brave Hieronim who drove the dragon away from Toruń. In this spectacular show by Special, the story is the starting point to telling more about the city itself and to take viewers on a journey through the Old Town of Toruń and to show the legendary symbols of the city, including gingerbread, Nicolaus Copernicus, the famous Tuba Dei (Trumpet of God) bell and, obviously, the Toruń dragon and master Hieronim. The installation and projection of the videomapping is something unheard of on the national scale, as the script is based on a comic book that was created in an interesting and eye-catching animated form. The projection is not intended for minors.
